Eastside Cooperative Preschool is a nonprofit, parent participation preschool affiliated with South Puget Sound Community College. Parents and teachers work together to provide a balanced program for the whole child allowing for physical, emotional, cognitive, social and creative exploration with a focus on growth through play. Other benefits include:

Invested, knowledgeable and highly qualified teachers along with low student to adult ratios.	Families have the opportunity to self-select the tuition rate that best matches their financial situation.	Children do not need to be potty trained to attend ECP.	Parents grow alongside their children through parent education opportunities both in and out of the classroom.	School fundraising done on a community level with no per family obligation.
